The Director's Note

"The quality of requiring full use of one's energy", that's one of the definitions of the word challenge, that's close to describing this project but a good challenge. There were 31 very nice boys and girls, each one special, but energetic. They worked hard, the whole cast worked hard; the adults helping with the children, the backstage people and their duties. Cooperation - that's another good word to fit this production. Members of the community who contributed, and all those involved with this production who volunteered their help to give you, the audience, an entertaining fast paced hour. I am sure you will enjoy your children as I did and the hardwork of the adults also. Thanks parents for the use of your children. They really were a delight!
