The Setting

Present Day

Inside and around Cabin 12, a worn-down motel in rural West Virginia

Cabin 12, SCT's entry into the 2012 Mississippi Theatre Association Festival, examines the tension and grief of a father and son who have come to a strange town in West Virginia to arrange for the burial of Scotty, their son and brother, a young truck driver who has been killed in a highway accident. As Harold and Bob talk about him, and his life, they are forced to face not only his death, but each other.
